LOGAN'S FORT SITE

MARKED FOR ALL TIME BY IMPOSING MONUMENT.

Impressive Ceremonies When Unveiling Was Held Under D. A. R. Auspices Last Week.

(Contributed by a D. A. R.)
In haste to make money, we Americans are prone to neglect many interesting and worthwhile events that transpire in the days of our forefathers, but thanks to our organization and women of the country, we sometimes revert to historic days. In this instance the St. Asaph Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution of Danville, called to our modern minds the founding of Logan's Fort. Last year this Chapter erected a stone monument with marker and last Friday it was unveiled and placed in our keeping. It isn't the value of a thing, but the meaning it conveys and what greater honor could we have than to know people elsewhere recognize and reverence the historic spots in our city. At 3:30 last Friday afternoon, several hundred people witnessed the impressive dedicatory ceremonies, conducted at the marker, in the yard of Mr. J. B. Camenisch, just north-west of the water works. Miss Esther Burch, Regent of Logan-Whitley Chapter, acted as chairman.
The service was opened with prayer by Rev. Welburn. Hon. P. M. McRoberts welcomed the guests with his usual air of welcome and told us a bit of history in connection with the Fort. The tablet which was very patriotic in its appearance, with two large American flags, two smaller ones, and a huge wreath was unveiled by little Miss Elizabeth Ganfield and Master Henry Jackson of Danville. Mrs. Patty Bell Engleman gave a most interesting paper which brought to our minds the courage and indomitable purpose of these ancient settlers.

Mrs. Engleman's Paper.
Daughters of the American Revolution and Friends: As such I greet you; friends are born, not made, at least it is so in the highest sense of the term. There is a bond of friendship, which I cannot explain, nor will I try to explain, which exists between all Daughters of the American Revolution.

This spot is sacred to the memory of the Logans and Montgomeries. Right here is where the old Logan's Fort stood; at the foot of the hill the crystal water of St. Asaph Spring bubbled and gurgled in glee, and rushed through the forests to the river and on to the ocean; to the south between the ravine, the salt water flowed where the buffaloes came to quench their thirst, from which the Buffalo Spring gained its name.

Will you let me tell you a bit of romantic history that was told me by my grandmother, Mary Montgomery Helm, and was told to her by her grandmother, Mary Greenleaf Montgomery, showing that love was as warm and true in those perilous pioneer days, as today, when the calm of peace hovers over our homes like a brooding dove; their aspirations were as lofty; their ideals as high. Ideals are like the stars, we cannot touch them with our hands, but like the seamen upon the waste of waters, we can choose them for our guides, and by following them, reach our destiny. "Ideals are the world's masters," and by them was Florence Montgomery influenced, in the days of long ago, when the buffalo, the bear, the swift-footed deer and the wolf with its blood-curdling howl, made the night hideous, roamed the unbroken forests.

Then came those sturdy pioneers, bringing with them their wives and children, their lures and penalties; and here on this spot they pitched their tents and built with logs, hewn from the primeval forests, "Logan's Fort." The Fort was broad and deep with a wide chimney. As the days went by the dread of an attack from the Indians grew less and less. There was a generous spirit of co-operation and the men of the different forts would help each other plant and gather their crops. One bright spring morning when the air was as stimulating as wine, and redolent with the perfume of flowers, and the song of the wild bird made melody, the men rode off to a nearby fort, leaving their loved ones in the care of the priest, (and now this seems a very strange coincidence, that fort that was near was "Whitley's Fort.") The children were wild with delight to play out of the fort in the bright sunlight. A cry of joy rang out on the air, saying: "The wild turkeys are here; the wild turkeys are here," when the priest rushed them back into the safety of the fort, fastening the great oaken bar, and he was none too soon, telling them that it was the Indians trying to deceive them.

The Indians, finding that they had failed to gain an entrance into the fort, raced around trying to find a spot by which they could enter and capture the women and children. Perfectly infuriated, and with tomahawks raised and with savage yells, they continued their mad race; finding no vulnerable spot, they set fire to the Fort; then the prayers of priest and women and the agonizing cry of the children were heard. With rare courage, Florence Montgomery calmed the tumult, and told the priest to unbar the fort, that one life had better be lost than all; she was ready for the supreme sacrifice of self for her people. She gave a heart message for her lover, who had ridden away in a joyful mood, whistling as gayly as the robins, for soon they were to be married. After much pleading, mid the benediction of priest and kin she slipped through the door with a calm and dauntless courage. The Indians saw her, and with yells of demons, the chase begun; round and round they went, faster and more furious grew the (Continued on second page.)

SHERIFF OF CARROLL KILLED.

J. E. Robertson, sheriff of Carroll county, was shot and killed Wednesday when attempting to arrest Lucian Rice on a charge that he had abused his aged mother. When Rice opened fire on the sheriff he was killed by Baxter Bright, a deputy. The shooting took place at Sanders, near Carrollton. Robertson and his deputy had been warned that Rice was armed and advanced cautiously to a barn in which he was working. As soon as Robertson spoke to Rice the latter drew a revolver and fired, killing the sheriff instantly. Then Rice was shot by Bright. Rice was a former rural free delivery carrier, but on account of his numerous escapades was removed from the postal service. At the August term of circuit court he was fined $500 and costs for assault with attempt to kill with a knife. This fine was liquidated and he was released. Wednesday Rice went upon the rampage again and ran several citizens to cover. Later his mother swore to a warrant charging he had threatened to kill her.

Mr. Allen Loses Pants

Burglar Breaks Into Well Known Citizen's Residence.

A burglar entered Mr. J. A. Allen's home on East Main street at about 3 o'clock Thursday morning and stole his best pair of pants and got the $5 or $6 he had in change in the pockets. Planning to join his wife in Louisville Thursday, Mr. Allen had had his trousers cleaned and pressed and was going to look his best when he joined his wife. But man proposes and God disposes and his arrangements were knocked into a cocked hat. He awoke just as the intruder, who was a negro, was getting out of the window, and took after him. He stopped neither for shoes or other wearing apparel, but followed him up Logan avenue. Reaching the home of his son-in-law, N. W. Fowle, Mr. Allen borrowed that gentleman's pistol but it was too late then, as the burglar was out of sight. Only a few days ago Mr. Allen had given his shot gun to Scott Hamilton, or the darkey might not have fared so well. Donning a pair of winter trousers, Mr. Allen left on the 4:39 train and enjoyed the day in Louisville quite as much as if he had not had the misfortune to lose his pants.

Warren Allin Dead

Splendid Democrat of Mercer County Passes Away Suddenly.

His many friends in this section were greatly grieved to learn of the death at Harrodsburg Tuesday night of Warren L. Allen, one of the best known democrats and professional men of Mercer county. Mr. Allen had been ill but a short time, and his death, coming suddenly as it did, was a great shock to his host of friends and loved ones. Mrs. Allen is a first cousin of Mrs. E. C. Walton, of this city, who went to her side at once, to offer such sympathy and condolence as was possible in this hour of her great bereavement, when the hearts of everyone go out to her. Mr. Allen was 49 years of age and a member of one of the most prominent families of Mercer county. He was a lawyer and several years ago served as county attorney, but lately had been connected with the Mercer National Bank. He was an uncompromising democrat of the old-school variety, and none could ever be more loyal to his friends than he. He was a brilliant and intellectual man, a fine talker, and of strong personality. In addition to his wife, who was Miss Jean Vinson, of Catlettsburg, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. William Allin. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, being conducted by the ministers of the Baptist and Christian churches.

OIL IN ROCKCASTLE.

Much interest was aroused here this week over the rumor from Rockcastle that oil has been struck in a well about three miles southwest of Mt. Vernon. Quite a number of leases have been taken over Rockcastle county and in the eastern section of this county, the oil experts seem to think that the Estill county oil field runs this way. The section south and east of Crab Orchard has practically all been leased to oil people, and splendid prospects of locating oil in that section, are said to be had. Everyone who has investigated the matter, believes that there is a large pool of oil under Lincoln county, but the question is to locate it.

Death's Heavy Hand

Laid Heavily Upon Prominent West End Family This Week.

Death is at all times sad, but it is particularly so when it comes to those in the very prime of life and who are so much needed, as it did in the case of Mrs. John B. Riffe, of Hustonville, on Wednesday afternoon. By her taking away three sons are left motherless and a devoted husband must climb the hill alone. God grant that they may all be given strength to withstand the irreparable loss they have sustained. Mrs. Riffe, who was Miss Nannie Carpenter, a daughter of Sandy T. Carpenter, of the West End, was 42 years old and had been since her childhood a devout member of the Christian church. She was as beautiful of character as she was of face and her friends were numbered by her acquaintances. Light-hearted and happily disposed, she got the best out of life and impressed those among whom she mingled that with her life was worth the living. A pity it is that she was not spared longer to spread sunshine and bring happiness to hearts in gloom. The three sons that survive her are fine, manly fellows, but they are just at the ages when a mother's love and advice is so much needed. They are Julian, John and Jesse Riffe, who with their father have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. Deceased was only ill two days. Every effort possible was made to save her, but medical skill was unequal to the emergency. The burial took place in the Hustonville cemetery Thursday afternoon after appropriate remarks at the grave by her pastor, Rev. A. H. Baugh, Eld. J. Q. Montgomery, of Liberty, and Rev. L. Brandenburg, of the Baptist church. A great crowd gathered at the grave to pay the last tribute to the excellent young wife and mother.

Examining Trial Put Off

Commonwealth Witness Ill When Morgan Case Was Called.

The examining trial of Sweeney Morgan, prominent Garrard county farmer, who shot his son-in-law, Booth Sutton to death last week, was postponed to Tuesday on motion of the Commonwealth, when called in the Garrard county court Thursday. A material witness for the prosecution was sick and unable to be present, which caused the postponement. Mr. Morgan has retained Attorneys L. L. Walker and James I. Hamilton to defend him, while Attorney Joe E. Robinson was employed to assist in the prosecution.

The Lancaster Record says that the following evidence was brought out at the coroner's inquest: Mr. Sutton had been drinking and trouble occurred between him and his wife at their home. Mrs. Sutton left home and went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Holtzclaw, who lives about two or three hundred yards from the Sutton home. Sutton followed and came to the Holtzclaw home with a shotgun. Another quarrel ensued and Mrs. King a sister of Mr. Morgan interposed. At this time Mrs. Sutton is said to have gone to the home of a neighbor, Mr. Bruce Lawson and telephoned to Sheriff Ballard to come and arrest her husband. At about this time Mr. Morgan is said to have learned of the trouble from a little son of Mr. Frank Holtzclaw, and with a shotgun, went from his home to the Holtzclaw home, a distance of about one hundred yards. On arriving there, as testified by Mrs. King, Mr. Sutton said, "Get up from there Grace," and fired at Sutton, who was sitting on the porch, from a distance of about ten feet. The shot entered just over the heart, cutting the aorta. Mr. Morgan says that he shot in self defense, and that Mr. Sutton was rising from his seat and was about to shoot him. The body was found around the corner of the house about forty feet from the scene of the shooting by the Sheriff on his arrival, and beside it was a shot gun.

After the Coroner's inquest, Mr. Sutton's body was removed to his own home and burial took place in the Lancaster Cemetery Tuesday.

W. C. T. U. MOTHERS' DAY

"Mothers' Day," as observed by the W. C. T. U., at their meeting on Tuesday afternoon, while not reaching the ideal in number of mothers present, was an interesting meeting. The weather was perfect for an open air meeting. Chairs were arranged in the yard at Mrs. Adelia Woods. A splendid program had been arranged by our pains-taking president, Mrs. J. S. Baughman. This was supplemented by a very fitting talks from two of our pastors, Drs. Early and Welburn. Dr. Early struck the keynote when he told the mothers present, that a reform in dress, for their girls was as much a necessity, if a high standard of morality was to be maintained, as a reform from intoxicating liquors. The object of these meetings is to bring the mothers in closer touch with the work the W. C. T. U. is trying to do for the protection of their boys and girls. Parents are urged to sign the "Total Abstinence Pledge," and to teach it to their children in youth and thus save themselves many heart-aches for their old days. At the conclusion of the program a social time was enjoyed, during which frappe and wafers were served.—Contributed.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness, should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through this crisis.

pace; when she was going just as fast as mortal feet could go, she threw herself behind the chimney. The Indians, not seeing her, thought she had outstripped them in the race. Their fury knew no bounds; with tomahawks gleaming and glittering in the sunlight, their painted faces distorted with fury, and with angry yells, they rushed on for their victim. When they were just out of sight, the girl, with the swiftness of a gazelle, sped across the woods, the breaking of every twig sent the blood pounding to her heart. When she had almost gained Whitley's Fort, her foot caught in the branch of a fallen tree; she breathed a silent prayer that God would give her strength to save her people. The lover saw her fall; in the flash of a moment he was on his horse, he raised her to her side, with her foot in the stirrup they went to rescue the Fort. He gave the alarm, the others followed as fast as horse could go under whip and spur; as they drew near to the Fort, to their horror, they saw the flames leaping and roaring with pitiless fierceness. The Indians were having a war dance, and whoops wild and fierce rent the air. The hearts of husbands and lovers stood still with fear knowing their loved ones were perishing in the flames. Raising their rifles, they poured a volley of shot into the Indians; two of the three were killed and the third made his escape, but it was thought that he was wounded, from the trail of blood. When the dear ones were safe, after the manner of the people, they prayed, sending up an incomparable prayer which rose as sweet incense to the great Jehovah for their deliverance.

And now to these Stanford men and the donor of this land, Mr. Camenisch, who have made the pleasures of this day possible for the Daughters of the American Revolution, let me say: That those characteristics which are so marked in Kentuckians, independence, bravery, honesty, and chivalry, have been exemplified by them in the immutable law, that he gains his reward who loses self in the service of others. You have given your time and talent for us and thereby gained our gratitude. We thank you.

It is with peculiar pleasure that I have the honor of unveiling this marker at Logan's Fort, where your forefathers and mine lived and died. In the name of the St. Asaph Chapter of Danville, we give into the care of the Logan-Whitley Chapter of Stanford, this piece of iron, knowing full well how you will cherish and care for it, handing it down to the next generation as a sacred trust; small though it is, it is fraught with tremendous interest. It will stand

"Only 'Gets-It' for Me After This!"

It "Gets" Every Corn Every Time. Painless. Nothing More Simple. "I'll tell you what, I've quit using toe-eating salves for corns. I've quit making a package out of my toes with bandages and contraptions—quit digging with knives and scissors. Give me 'GETS-IT' every time!"

When You See These Pretty Girls in Your Druggist's Window It's a Good Time To End Your Corns.

That's what they all say the very first time they use "GETS-IT". It's because "GETS-IT" is so simple and easy to use—put it on in a few seconds—because there is no work or corn-fooling to do, no pain that shoots up to your heart. It gets your corns off your foot. All the time it's working—and then that little old corn peels right off, leaves the clean, corn-free skin underneath—and your corn is gone! No wonder millions praise "GETS-IT". Try it tonight. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere. 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Stanford and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by The Lincoln Pharmacy.

the cruel blast of winter and the fierce heat of summer; typical of those pioneer men and women; it seems to breathe of their heroism. A distinguished and noble name is a proud inheritance to him who lives worthy of it.

I trust the uplifting of our state and the inculcating in the minds of our young people a higher and deeper love for this country of ours for love, hope and freedom, may be the fundamental principle of this Logan-Whitley Chapter.

As the years go by and the books are closed, the seal is set, and we are called to join that innumerable throng beyond the stars, may it be with the consciousness that we have done something for the glory of God and the welfare of our fellowman. May we ever be counted as worthy descendants of a noble, patriotic parentage. The workman will die, but the work goes on.

This gift was accepted by Dr. J. G. Carpenter, who substituted for Mayor A. B. Florence.

Dr. Carpenter's Speech

Ladies and Gentlemen: Mr. Albert Florence, the Mayor Extraordinary of Stanford, being absent on this eventful occasion in the "Land of the Paduky," at a gushing oil well, appointed me from 3 to 5 p. m., Mayor Plenipotentiary to represent him and gush oratory for you. He gave me the keys of the City of Stanford, the gates are wide open, I invite you to enter joyfully. If any of you are hot, the cold storage plant is close by; if any of you are thirsty, we are a mile and a half up the placid and serene waters of the St. Asaph, drink—drink freely; if any one is hungry, the Princess awaits you on Main street; if you are weary in standing, brush your trousers and sit on the beautiful sward; any one about to faint, we have the wine of joy, the oil and spirits of consolation; the pomegranate of plenty; any of you sick, bathe seven times in the fathomless waters of the St. Asaph and be healed, but take not a blossom or leaf from the picturesque stream but kokak the magnificent views all you wish.

Miss Esther Burch, the chair-woman, or enchantress, or Loreli of the St. Asaph, called me by phone at 2 p. m., and said: "Where is Mr. Florence, the mayor; is he absent today?" I said "Yes," then the Enchantress said, "Do you represent him this afternoon?" The Mayor Plenipotentiary said, "I do," then came the question, "How long is your speech?" The Mayor "pro tem" replied, "Long enough to last from three o'clock p. m., to the setting of the sun, or to sun-rise in the morning." "Great Heavens!" exclaimed the Enchantress, "cut it short, boil it down—the fewest words possible."

Ladies and Gentlemen, your Mayor Plenipotentiary had a great speech, that would have entertained you for hours but, being under the influence of the Loreli of the St. Asaph, that production has evaporated, and I now speak from inspiration, with much perspiration.

I accept this beautiful and unique monument, unique from the fact there is not another like it on "terra firma," or beneath the canopies of Heaven; beautiful because the D. A. R.'s devised it and presented it to the City of Stanford. This monument is massive, a concrete mass of ponderosity with an iron face, but does not resemble General Benjamin Logan—my illustrious uncle. But, as I am to accept this beautiful historic gift in the fewest words possible "ala" Loreli and "ala" Carpenter, the dude's blessing at a "House Party" suits exactly—"Lord—thanks, awfully"—yea, more, verily, I thank the donors of this unique gift on behalf of the citizens of Stanford—Lincoln county, the State of Kentucky and United States of America.

Ladies and Gentlemen—my gratitude is all used up. This gift so kindly expresses the generous, noble heroic and patriotic endeavors and benevolence of this great body of women, the Daughters of the American Revolution, that so highly honor the memory and valiant deeds, the heroism and patriotism of the great benefactor, General Benjamin Logan. He was a woman's right man; he, with and without Daniel Boone, and other brave warriors was the first to rescue women and children from the murderous Indians and restore them to the Forts and families. All praise and honor to his achievements and those of the Daughters of the American Revolution. These things had to take place for General Benjamin Logan was a predestinated Presbyterian and belonged to the Synod.

Ladies, I again thank you for this monument, this mass of concrete, iron and ponderosity. In fact, it is ponderosity itself. Had I Samsonian strength I would carry this ponderosity home and place it in my front yard for an ornament. I would gladly hitch your wagon to the stars, but I can not load this ponderosity alone, or by myself. This gift is timely, appropriate and suits the occasion, except for its stupendous ponderosity.

I trust before long the Daughters of the American Revolution will have placed markers, or monuments at all of the Indian Forts in Lincoln county, viz: Carpenter's, McCormack's, McKinney's, Gilmore's, Whitley's, Walnut Flat (Perrin's and Flack's, near Crab Orchard.) Under the Democratic Administration it is said times are good, business plentiful, much money abounds in the Banks and Rural Credit Association. Ladies, with little more zeal, industry, time, patience and patriotic endeavor, you can easily erect monuments at all of these Forts in Lincoln county. But for heaven's sake do not ask me to accept them. A public man has a distressing time when waited on by special committees. Mr. Hibble in answering a prohibition committee said, "It appears we will have rain today." So say we, "the fewest words possible" to reach the goal. Do I hear you say "mene mene tekel upharsin."

The Enchantress said accept the monument in as few words as possible. I am trying to do so knowing that brevity is the soul of wit; of this I have not a bit, yet aphorizing all the time, abbreviating more and more. These are trying times on public speakers—Wilson at Hodgenville, Hughes at Lexington, and we at the placid, serene, sparkling waters of the St. Asaph. As we gaze upon this unique mass of ponderosity, I am reminded of Mark Twain at the grave in the Holy Land of his illustrious ancestor, his uncle Adam the First Man in the World, and feel as he felt, both joyful and sad; glad because we had so distinguished an uncle, and I too, sorrow like the immortal Twain, because I never saw the smiling, heroic and manly face, and never heard the gentle and musical voices of our renowned uncles; therefore I lachrymate profusely.

General Benjamin Logan, a tall athletic, contemplative, well balanced, dignified figure, distinguished in person and appearance, taciturn, Herculean in mental and martial power, Samsonian in strength; the statesman's eye was crowned with the warrior's brow—a strong Napoleonic countenance, unyielding fortitude, an impenetrable guard invited to a confidence which was never betrayed. The monument is taciturn. The fewest words possible have been used on this occasion, to meet the demands in accepting the monument. My "inspiration," respiration, transpiration and expiration increase rapidly and the speaker is about extinguished and has had a longing for a place to stop.

Yes! Yes! These are hard times on great men. George Washington is dead, Thomas Jefferson is no more, Abraham Lincoln was assassinated, Grant has passed away, General Benjamin Logan has crossed the "Great Divide," and I am not feeling very well myself.

But the Loreli of the St. Asaph, with magic voice still whispers "Use the fewest words possible," in accepting the monument, so mote it be. Selah!

Rip VanWinkle, the great hunter of the Catskills, said the Lorelis or Nymphs of the St. Asaph and Highlands and Valleys of the Knob Lick country, make the best wives, for they said the fewest words possible—so say we—Rip ought to know—Selah!

Dr. Ganfield's Tribute to Woman.

Dr. William A. Ganfield, President of Centre College was introduced by Miss Burch, but the people of Stanford feel they need no introduction to him, having the honor of hearing him speak previously. Dr. Ganfield is most enthusiastic and accommodating on all occasions and it is a rare treat to be able to hear him even in so short a speech. Dr. Ganfield's remarks were eloquently beautiful and impressive. In closing he paid the following beautiful tribute to woman.

Memorial history is as old as the signal experiences of men. On the banks of the ancient Nile crumble the pyramids which tell the story of the achievements of the people of those early days. All over the continent of Europe stand the monuments which memorialize the folks of other times and climes. Already our young republic boasts her Bunker Hill, her Yorktown and scores of other monuments adorning our national and state capitals. This tablet of iron and of stone will ever remind us and our children of the heroic lives and deeds of Kentucky's early men.

While we are thus thoughtful of the great deeds and greater lives of our noble living and heroic dead, we are never unmindful of the noble sacrifice, the heroic service and the unflinching courage of the women of the land. And when at last a fitting monument shall be erected in this fair land of ours, upon which shall be emblazoned the names and deeds of heroes of the past, above and beyond all shall be left a space of marble, purest white. On it not a name shall be written, not a word shall be there, but every beholder shall forever know that it stands sacred to the memory of the women of the land, for in all the language of tongue or pen, there are not found words true enough and pure enough strong enough and bright enough, to tell the story of the heroism, the courage, the sacrifice, and our hearts adoration and devotion to the women whom we love.

The audience, assisted by the school children sang several verses of America and the services were closed with a short prayer by Rev. Bruce. Immediately afterward the Logan-Whitley Chapter was hostess at a very informal reception in the College yard to the St. Asaph Chapter and their friends. Orange punch and wafers were served by the aids and it was an hour of true sociability.

Those who motored over from Danville were Mesdames R. S. Lytle, W. A. Ganfield, J. P. Frank, J. S. Baughman, Patty Bell Engleman, R. G. Price, Henry W. Evans, Henry Jackson, Misses Robbie Penny, Mary Hogsett, Mary Shelby, Mary McRoberts, Sue A. VanMeter, Mary F. Wood, Nannie B. Fisher, Mary A. Robinson, Dr. W. A. Ganfield and Master Henry Jackson.

School Breaks Record

More Pupils Enrolled Than Ever Before—Good Year Seems Presaged.

The Stanford Graded and High School opened Monday, September 4th, with the most auspicious beginning that it has ever had. The devotional exercises at the College building were conducted by Dr. M. D. Early, after which promotions were made in the first four grades and the pupils who were promoted to the fifth grade were escorted to the Graded School building by the Superintendent, Rev. D. M. Walker.

There were 93 pupils enrolled in the High School which is the largest enrollment the school has ever had. Supt. Wilson has used every effort to encourage pupils entering the High School to continue their work until they have finished the entire course. The first year that he was connected with the school there were 70 pupils enrolled in High School; the second year 85, last year 94, and at this date there are already over 100.

The High School has the best course of study that it has ever had. The Home Economics Department has been built up until it is equal to the best in the State and this year the Board of Trustees ordered a basement room to be equipped for a sewing room. Miss Elizabeth Farra, who is at the head of this department, is a graduate of the Home Economics Department of the University of Kentucky, and has had experience in teaching these subjects in the Scott county schools. She expects to make this a banner year for this work in our school. This year the Senior girls were allowed the privilege of taking Home Decorations instead of Physics—all elected to do this and show great interest in this new phase of their school work. In this course, these girls will make an estimate of the cost necessary to furnish their own room and then other estimates for furnishing an entire home.

Mr. W. R. Todd, who holds an M. A. degree from Central University, has charge of the Science and History. He is very efficient in these subjects and his students are showing much interest.

Miss Frank Waller, who is an A. B. from Georgetown College instructs the Latin and other language courses. She has been teaching in the Madisonville city schools for the past two years and is very skillful in her line of work.

Miss Clara Peck, who for the past two years has been a teacher in the Middleboro city schools, is in charge of the English grade.

Miss S. Burdett, who has been a student at the E. K. S. N. S., at Richmond, and who taught one year in the Mercer county schools and the past two in the local school, will again direct the work of the seventh grade.

Miss Elizabeth Matheny, who for several terms was a student in the W. K. S. N. S., at Bowling Green, and for two years as teacher in the rural schools of Lincoln county, is teaching the sixth grade.

Miss Marie Ballard, who has been teaching in the rural schools of Garrard county, has charge of the fifth grade.

Miss Lucille Stone, a graduate of the E. K. S. N. S., at Richmond, and for the past three years a teacher in the London City Schools, is the fourth grade teacher.

Miss Jennie Newland, Mrs. H. D. Phillips and Miss Annie McKinney, who have shown such valuable service to the school in the past, are in charge of the third, second and first grades, respectively. All the teachers seem to be making an excellent showing in their work.

Miss Elizabeth Higgins, who holds a certificate from the Vocal Department of the College of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio, and who taught public school music in the school last year, has charge of this work again this year. She has several voice pupils and expects to have some good quartettes and choruses by the close of the session.

The Piano Department, which has been under the guidance of Miss Ellen Ballou, since the memory of her pupils runneth not to the contrary, has a good enrollment and has organized new clubs to do work similar to the one done by the Bach and Mozart Clubs. This department plans to put a Victrola in the school this year and to develop an appreciation of the pupils for good music more than it has ever done.

The man with money keeps it in the Bank where it is safe from fire or burglars or his own extravagance.

Greater than you think, for a few dollars here and there to borrowers and for things that you don't actually need, soon melt your pile away. Put your money in the Bank. It is safe there. Add to your balance every cent you can spare. Soon you'll be "a man with money." Put YOUR MONEY in OUR BANK. We pay 3 per cent. interest.

FOR SHERIFF
J. H. LIVINGSTON

The shortage of white paper becomes constantly more serious. It is so serious that many of the larger newspapers of the country whose contracts for news print are about expiring are threatened with the danger of the suspension of publication because of inability to secure the necessary supply of news print. Under such circumstances there was held in New York last week a meeting of the publishers of that city and some of the larger of the Northern and Eastern cities. One result was an agreement made among the newspapers of New York City to cut down the size of their paper an amount equal to 121 pages per week. This may help slightly to relieve the pressure but there is a demand for economy in the consumption of white paper thruout the United States. In spite of all that can be done it is reasonably certain that white paper will bring a much higher price next year than newspapers are now paying where they have contracts made the beginning of the year. It is well enough for the patrons of newspapers to understand what is going on in the market of one of the products that enters largely into the cost of newspaper production. It is inevitable that newspapers must find some way next year for the increase in their revenue.

An unusual advertisement appears in today's I. J., and is the first of a remarkable and powerful series. It is the advertisement of the Arbuckle coffee manufacturers, perhaps the greatest coffee producing firm in the country. The habit of coffee drinking, so popular in many homes, has been bitterly attacked in recent years by manufacturers of a substitute, in newspaper advertising and otherwise. Coffee makers and coffee drinkers will welcome the defense of the "cup that cheers but does not intoxicate" which is set forth in the advertising which the Arbuckle company is starting today. Read this advertisement in another column on this page. It is good reading, and tells an interesting story, whether you drink coffee or not. Likewise its appearance in this paper proves that the big manufacturers of national importance are more and more beginning to realize that the surest and truest medium through which to reach the great mass of people of these United States is thru their home newspaper—the country newspaper, among which we are proud to be numbered.

They beat Cole Blaise for governor of South Carolina, this week which is a good sign. Blaise is very much on the order of certain politicians with which Kentucky is overly familiar at present.

Former Senator Albert H. Charlton, of Louisville, one of the democrats who voted and helped elect Bradley to the senate, died last week. His death leaves only one of the infamous quartet still alive.

Milton H. Smith, president of the L. & N., was 80 years old Wednesday. He has proven Dr. Osler's theory all wrong, for the best work this great man has done has been in recent years.

POLITICAL NOTES

(From Democratic Headquarters)
After discoursing at length on the beauties of a protective tariff in his speech at Portland, Ore., Candidate Hughes branded as a traitor to his country the man who would seek to build up a private fortune at the public expense. Yea, verily, but nearly all of the swollen fortunes are due to the Republican theory of a protective tariff, and the fact that most of the beneficiaries of the system are putting up their ill gotten gains to elect Mr. Hughes shows that they want a return to it. They are traitors, of course, but as long as human nature remains as it is so long will men take advantage of a law which enable them to enrich themselves at the expense of others. Mr. Hughes does not even fool fools by his exhibition of virtue.

With the bitter fight between Sampson and Kirk during the campaign and the institution of a contest by the latter for the nomination, a state of affairs is shown in the Sev-

Fall Announcement

Every where in nature we see evidences of a summer that is gone. It's only a memory now. The FALL SEASON OF 1916 with its prosperity, its abundance of everything and its high prices of all farm products is with us. Lincoln county has been blessed this year. Never in history has she poured so much into the

Pockets of the Farmer

Plenty of everything and high prices for all. So the farmer should be well fixed and in a good humor. Willing to buy and ABLE TO PAY. In the face of this prosperity and good feeling we are enth Appellate district which augurs for Democracy. Sore spots have been made that it is said cannot be healed and it is believed that Judge Sampson will be slaughtered in a number of the strongest Republican counties. The district is normally Republican by 10,000 majority, but with a strong organization by the Democrats it is believed that it can be overcome by the Democratic nominee, Judge J. M. Robinson, who is an able lawyer and a very popular man of Pike county. The prize is worth striving for and the Democrats are going to make it with great confidence.

The number of wage earners has increased from 6,000,000 in 1912 to 8,500,000 in 1916 and the wages paid them is more than $3,000,000,000 more since the inauguration of a Democratic administration. It is to the interest of those who toil to do everything they can to continue a state of affairs so favorable to them, and from all indications there will be more wage earners to vote for Democracy's nominees than ever before.

The Presidential Candidates

"Eph," said a well known young Southern Senator to an old darkey he saw hanging about the outskirts of a political meeting, "what do you know about politics? I'll venture to say that you can't even tell me who is going to run for president."

"Yaas, boss I knows," answered Old Eph. "Mr. Roosevelt's er runnin' for there here Aggressives, and Mr. Hughes is er runnin' fer us, an'—an'—an'—boss, I don't fergot who's er runnin' for the white folks."—Ex.

What would he give for the coffee you serve?

Like a million other women, you can serve coffee that he would give most anything to have—coffee which starts the day "right" for all.

Everyone loves the rich flavor of Arbuckles' Coffee. Of all the coffees in America, today, it is by far the most popular!

One woman says, "My husband used to swallow his coffee and hurry off. Now we have Arbuckles' and you'd think it was Sunday the way he lingers over his breakfast."

Serve it in your home—see how the little early morning wrinkles disappear.

Until you try Arbuckles' you will never know what a difference good coffee can make in your home.

Arbuckles' Coffee is untouched by human hands. It is weighed, and sealed by machines,—machines which Arbuckle Bros. originated and which experts say are the most efficient in the world.

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

"No, indeed, I don't suffer from stomach trouble after taking Tanlac" said Mr. John Sherwood, Second and Walnut streets, Maysville, Ky.

"Why, for years I had trouble with indigestion and when I heard of Tanlac I decided to try it."

"I was surprised to find that it relieved me, almost, at once. I can truthfully say that I feel like a different person. The best way is for you to try it and see for yourself."

The wonderful success of Tanlac is familiar to everyone. No matter where you go Tanlac is a household word. It is the story of merit never before obtained by a proprietary medicine.

Conservative business men to whom the actual production of Tanlac have been presented have scouted them until the proof was shown. The production of Tanlac now stands at the rate of 5,000,000 bottles per year.

These enormous sales mean but one thing and that is merit. It is the repeat sales that count. When the first bottles gives good results a second bottle is always sold. In thousands of cases people have voluntarily come forward with their personal endorsements. These are facts as indisputable as the Rock of Gibraltar. They prove that Tanlac has relieved stomach, kidney, liver and catarrhal ills.

Tanlac is being specially introduced in Stanford at the Penny Drug Store, E. R. Coleman, Prop. 73-1

Tanlac may be obtained at the following nearby cities: Moreland, Abraham Minks; Hustonville, Adams Bros.; McKinney, True & Co.; Ellisburg, W. C. Bryant; Crab Orchard, Lyne Bros.; Brodhead, John Robbins; Lancaster, R. E. McRoberts; Bee Lick, J. Reynolds & Son; Waynesburg, W. A. Horton.

M'Affee Family Reunion

Delightful Occasion Observed In Mercer County Last Week

The McAfee reunion at New Providence church, Mercer county, Kentucky, has become the established custom. The second meeting of this clan, August 31, was attended by several hundred people from over the state and other states. Engraved invitations had been sent out commanding the presence of all upon whom they could lay claim by blood or marriage. Consequently when the glad morning came the old church yard rapidly filled with people, many of whom went as strangers, but did not part as such, owing to the kindred fellowship and cordiality of spirit which pervaded the day. After a royal spread under the shade of the old trees and the inner man had been comforted with a typical Kentucky dinner, the clan gathered within the walls of the church and were greeted with words of welcome by their chosen chief, Caldwell McAfee, after which organization was effected and some committees appointed. Then followed an important speech by a talented son of the clan, Judge Chas. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg. Judge Hardin's words, so soulfully spoken, reflected most truly the patriotic, reverential spirit of his worthy ancestors, and the spirit of the occasion. An item of importance to them was the erection of a monument to the memory of Jane McAfee, the mother of the five brothers, who settled in the community in 1773. Extracts of interest, including evidences of a wonderful preservation of life from hostile Indians, were quoted from early historian, Col. Robert E. McAfee, one of the brothers, who was later sent as Consul to South America. Gratitude for what they considered very special providence prompted the building of a church and ground was broken and a building erected, which they named "New Providence." A committee is now appointed to locate this monument either at the old church or at Harrodsburg nearby. Would not other families do well to emulate the McAfees in annual reunions whereby history may be preserved, traditions handed down and posterity enriched by family history where God has been honored and served? Those who attended this reunion from Danville were Mrs. J. M. Wallace, Major Wallace, Mrs. Mary Davis Irvine.

Between two hundred and fifty and three hundred people were in attendance, many of whom were from a distance. True Kentucky hospitality was bountifully dispensed and the occasion will be a memorable one for the clan and their friends.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

THE NEED FOR CLEAN AMUSEMENTS IN TOWN

(From the Woman's Club Daily I. J.)

In all the work for the moralization of human life, the workers are confronted by a disturbing environment and a persistent counter-current of degeneration.

The question which earnest and thoughtful men and women are asking more insistently every day is: "Whence come the bad?" Are they an inevitable feature of society? They are recruited from the ranks of childhood. Are they the product of heredity? Perhaps to a very great extent, but much more are they the product of environment. Comparatively little change in the moral bent in one direction or the other takes place in humanity, after adolescence. The waste begins before that time tho it may not appear until later. Nothing is more discouraging or disappointing than the work for the reform of depraved adults. Childhood is the time of extreme plasticity, physically, mentally and morally. Children, unless removed from the wrong environment, are foredoomed. The two great forces which act within or upon the child are heredity and environment. The essential elements of environment are the good home, school and town. The making of a good home need scarcely be argued since most of our children have a good home and the privilege of attending one of the very best schools in the state, but what have we in the way for clean amusements or environment for our youth? Our children hear and learn that which pollutes their minds and makes moral training difficult. The effluent force of our coarseness is everywhere. On the streets a vast amount of unthinking as well as vicious profanity, coarseness, obscenity and even brutality is sometimes witnessed by them. Petty babbles and gossip in our social surroundings is positively so corrupting that the wonder is that life improves from generation to generation as much as it does. We need to co-operate with our efficient movie manager and have a picture show for our children. The movies give them the first glimpse of a larger world. The vivid scenes on the screens become the strongest social influence at our youth's most impressionable age. Psychologists have uniformly found that films exert the strongest known power of imitation and suggestion. The fate of the world is determined by the influences which prevail with the child from birth to seven years of age; and certainly from birth to fourteen years. All of our problems go back to the child: the corrupt environment of politics, dishonesty, drunkenness, incompetency and criminality. All because we are working in opposition to God's commandment: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." Mr. Voter will you not, by your privilege blot out the dangerous cigarette, the sale of "booze," clean up and purify the atmosphere of our back streets and alleys and save our boys? Don't wait to take the twig after it is bent and stiffened into a tree; to take the brook after it has become a torrent; to take the fire after it has become a conflagration. God is teaching us in ways made costly, to begin at the beginning and meet the demands of the situation by confronting to fundamental principles.

Concrete Water Trough

Placed at Bend in Pike Half Way Up Hall's Gap.

One of the most useful conveniences to stock and stockmen coming into Stanford's market from the south has been the replacing of the watering station, half way up the Hall's Gap pike. A practically indestructible watering trough of concrete which has a capacity of 450 gallons has been built by Phillips Bros., concrete contractors of this city. It is fed from Squirrel Spring on top of the Gap, which is said to be source of Green River. The spring is 450 feet higher than the trough, and has been boxed in, making a natural pool for the thirsty wayfar-ing man, while below delightful cool water awaits his horse or livestock. The Fiscal court, for the county, furnished the necessary piping, at a cost of $27, which is money well spent, and the Stanford Chamber of Commerce by subscription, made up $63 for the cost of the concrete basin. A guide sign will be placed at this picturesque point later. It is expected that the neighbors and others who will obtain chief benefit from this watering place, will keep it in order, and in clean condition.

D. C. Smith, who has been with J. W. Smith, the Lancaster merchant for few months, has resigned and returned to Mt. Vernon to accept the position as head clerk for Sutton & McBee at a much better salary.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

SKELETONS DUG UP ON ROAD

While grading a road near Nancy, Pulaski county, last week, a workman named Elbert Simpson and others dug up two human skeletons on the side of the road. They were in a splendid state of preservation. One was evidently the skeleton of a young man not yet grown, as the teeth were all in place and they were perfect. The clothing had long since gone into decay, and the only thing that remained to indicate their attire or position, was a few buttons, some of which were white and the others blue. Simpson, while searching through the dirt, discovered a gold eagle, bearing the date of 1858. After the discovery of the skeleton, many of the old citizens called to memory the fact that just before the battle of Mill Springs, which occurred early in 1862, two of Gen. Zollicoffer's pickets were killed just west of Nancy, and were buried some distance from the old Columbia Road. Since that time changes have taken place in the community, and old road beds have been frequently abandoned for better locations and the skeletons are doubtless those of the two Confederates who fell at the commencement of the battle that resulted in a Union victory and in the death of General Zollicoffer. Not a great distance from the place where they were found is a beautiful plot of ground where the Confederates who fell on the battle field are buried, and the gruesome reminders of the sad tragedy of more than 50 years ago interred there close beside the remains of their brave comrades.

WANT VOTE IN MARION
Petitions asking that the Marion County Court call an election for the purpose of taking a vote on the liquor question are being circulated at Lebanon and in that county. It is proposed to take the vote in the county as a whole and to hold the election in December. Liquors have been sold at Lebanon for several years. It is the only town in the county where they are sold. There are four saloons and two quart houses in Lebanon, the former paying a city license of $1,000 a year and the latter $500 a year.

Railroads Are Beneficial

Land Values Enhanced in Territory They Traverse.

The relation of transportation facilities—good highways and railroads—to land values and tributary wealth is strikingly illustrated by a survey just made by the Queen & Crescent route. The territory embraced covers 596 miles between Williamstown, Ky., and Meridian, Miss. Thirty land experts collected the data.

The first calculation from the investigation is that land values decrease rapidly as mileage from railroad increases except in territory served by good, free turnpikes. Among illustrations is the town of Eubanks. Land within two miles of the station sells from $20 to $30 per acre. The same type of land with corresponding improvements eight to ten miles from the station brings only $10 to $16.

Georgetown supplies a contrast. One mile from the city land sells at $200 per acre; 3 miles, $180; 7 miles for $150; 12 miles, $125.

Taking an average of farm land values as received from thirty different stations along the Q. & C. route, farm land decreases from 70 to 80 per cent in value in a distance of 12 miles from railroad stations in territory that has not been improved with good free turnpikes leading out in direct lines away from the main line of railroad to a distance of 12 miles or more.

Territory that has good turnpike system leading direct from railroad only show a decrease of land values of from 40 to 50 per cent in same distance.

The O. & W. Railroad, now building in a western direction from a main line station on the Q. & C. route, Onida, Tenn., illustrates how quickly timber and coal increases in value when furnished with steam railroad transportation facilities.

Nine thousand acres of coal land which carries a four foot of steam bituminous coal thru which this new line runs, which has heretofore been located 14 miles from a railroad, jumped in value from $6 to $25 per acre.

Twenty thousand acres of virgin hardwood timber formerly priced at $10 per acre is now value at $35 per acre on account of this new railroad, which passes within a few miles of this timber land. Many similar cases may be cited to show that transportation facilities are essential to land values.

ALFALFA IS PROFITABLE CROP FOR KENTUCKY.

Limestone Region is Well Adapted to the Growth of This Valuable Feeder and Soil Builder.

Much literature concerning the growing of alfalfa in Kentucky has been sent out by the Experimental Station, and there has been considerable comment on it, but too much cannot be said in favor of this succulent builder of both flesh and soil.

If alfalfa had no other value than to rejuvenate and replenish the soil it would still be worth farmer's effort to cultivate it. The bacteria bearing nodules on the roots of the plant act as a transformer, changing the unavailable nitrogen in the air to "fixed nitrogen" in the soil. The minimum value of nitrogen is seven and one-half cents a pound, when commuted in commercial fertilizer, which is evidence that it is a valuable and essential ingredient. According to the agricultural book, there were 20,299 acres of alfalfa under cultivation in Kentucky in 1909. It has been estimated that this acreage has been doubled since that time, when Kentucky stood twenty-sixth among the States of the Union in the production of this commodity. Kansas and Nebraska, however, produce almost as much alfalfa as all the other states combined.

Calcium is one of the essential elements in the soil, if the production of alfalfa is to be made profitable. Kentucky, being essentially a limestone region, is well adapted to the production of large quantities of alfalfa. This crop makes excellent silage, and the farmer who has his lot filled with alfalfa hay can look forward to the rigors of a hard winter with considerably more equanimity than the average husbandman.

Under normal conditions there can be three cuttings of alfalfa yearly in Kentucky. The value of alfalfa hay per ton as a feeder is considerably more than other feeds, in addition to which there is its value as a soil builder.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

Keeping Yourself Well

DRIVING OUT CATARRH

If people knew how the presence of catarrh is a constant menace, they would have none of it. It indicates some part of the delicately adjusted body and makes it useless, thus throwing on the other organs more than their share of work. It affords a carefully prepared seed-bomb for the germs of colds, grip, tuberculosis and pneumonia. It so disarranges Nature's delicate plans as to make possible asthma, hay fever and other respiratory disorders. It spreads until it becomes systemic, thus involving many organs and debilitating the entire system with serious results.

Catarrh is easily neglected, and it rarely gets well of itself. It needs proper medicinal correction. For almost half a century many thousands have found help in Peruna, a valuable tonic with special efficacy in catarrhal conditions. The aim is to clean out waste matter, to dispel the catarrhal inflammation, and tone up the whole system. Its users willingly testify that it has done all this and even more for catarrhal sufferers. What it has done is the best proof of what it will do. You may rely on Peruna.

In tablet form it is pleasant to take and easy to administer.

BOURBON POULTRY CURE HAS NO EQUAL

One 50c bottle makes 12 gallons of medicine. "I am a large breeder of fancy poultry and show birds. I have been using Bourbon Poultry Cure for the past seven years and never lose a chicken with disease, and I attribute my success to the use of this wonderful remedy. Have cured several bad cases of roup and other infectious disease with it, therefore I speak from experience when I say it cures. I heartily recommend it to my poultry raising friends in this and adjoining counties, as the greatest remedy I have ever used for the cure and prevention of poultry diseases."

Farmers Are Prosperous

Tell Q. & C. They Haven't Time to Fool With Agricultural Train

No better evidence of the South's prosperity can be offered than the fact that the Queen and Crescent route was obliged to cancel its development train, which was to have left New Orleans Saturday on a trip that would take it through Lexington and as far north as Cincinnati.

The train was to be under the direct supervision of the United States government, and during its stay at various rural points the farmers were to be taught all that Uncle Sam knows about scientific farming and matters of interest to the tillers of the soil, such as packing and shipping their products.

All arrangements had been made for a train of twelve or more cars, with government and railroad experts in charge. The cars were to contain exhibits and instructors, but when the time came to gather these exhibits from the most successful farmers of the South and arrange for their attendance, it was found they were too busy to give attention to it. They could not find spare time enough to get their exhibits together, nor would they guarantee time off to their help to attend the instructions. All had the same excuse:

"Too busy with our cotton and other crops this summer and fall to learn what the government has to teach us."

Don't forget that after Oct. 1st, the I. J. subscription price will be $1.50 a year but till then you may subscribe for as many years in advance as you wish at $1 a year.

Judge for Yourself

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Stanford Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as representative.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back.

A lame, weak, or aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far-away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony. Read this Stanford case: D. C. Dyehouse, Whitley Ave., Stanford, says: "My back was so sore and painful that it was hard for me to get around for days at a time. I tried everything but didn't seem to get anything that would bring me relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be what I needed and by the time I had finished three boxes, the pain in my back had left and I felt better in every way."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dyehouse had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 73-1

S. M. OWENS, McKinney, Ky.

The old saying "see one circus and you have seen them all," does not apply to the performance presented by the Sparks Circus this season.

A feature that it entirely new in this country and that stands out as a distinct novelty, is the wonderful performance of Henri Mordette, "the man who walks upon his head."

This wonderful exhibition of skill and daring consists in bounding up and down stairways balanced upon his head, with no support other than the contact of his head with the steps. The fine balance that must be maintained to accomplish this feat can only be appreciated after seeing this wonderful act accomplished.

This novelty will positively be seen at each performance of the Sparks Circus here next Wednesday, September 20.
